Firm Remains As Sole Agent For Insurance

Smart and Flagg Inc. will continue as the town's sole insurance agent.

The Board of Selectmen has notified interested agents, with offices in the town, that no division of the insurance business will be permitted. All three Selectmen signed the letter.

They said the present system "seems to be the most practical and economical for the town".

Under that system, all insurance is written by Smart and Flagg

Refuse To Change Collection System

The Board of Public Works has once again flatly refused to place water bill collections in the hands of the tax collector.

Chairman Allan Flye told board members "the state auditors recommend that all collections be made in a central place under the jurisdiction of the tax collector", during a meeting Monday night.

They've been trying to "gra-

The Andover TOWNSMAN was significantly honored by the New England Weekly Newspaper Association last week.

This newspaper received two awards - one for general excellence and another for the best local advertisement.

Business Manager Raymond DeRuisseau accepted the award certificates in behalf of Publisher Irving E. Rogers.

The general excellence award, for third place among some 40 competing weekly newspapers, was based on the over-all content, makeup and typography of the newspaper. Nieman Fellows at Harvard - newspapermen who have been chosen from throughout the country to study for one year, judged the contest.

The best local advertising award was based on layout and originality.

Last Polio Clinic Is Saturday Morning

Saturday will be the last chance to get free polio shots for everyone under 30 years of age.

A 9 a.m. clinic will be held in Central School Jan. 26, for youngsters from six months and up and for young people through 29 years of age.

No registration is needed, according to Health Board Chairman Charles O. McCullom. He said the names of those getting their shots will be taken for the record, but no other preliminary registration will be required this time. Before other clinics it had been necessary to register.

Some 3000 shots are available here, McCullom said, for those wanting their second shot or for newcomers who wish their first.

Highest Budgets In History

A record-breaking budget of $2,099,922 plus special articles valued at $707,583 are now being considered by the Finance Committee.

And voters will have their chance at the budget and articles, as recommended by that Committee, Saturday, March 9 at 1:30 p.m.

This year's budget is $401,283 greater than the one considered by the FinCom a year ago. But it is slightly less than the tentative budget totals published during the past few weeks. Some $126,314 was lopped off those preliminary figures.

The combined value of budgets and articles is $2,807,505. Last year, prior to Finance Committee study, these items grossed $2,711,667. But later on, the South School was added at another $980,000. Thus the 1957 requests, though rising steeply, are less than last year's, including the major school item.

Departments falling within the Selectmen's budget total $858,.

PUNCHARD HIGH

By The Press Club

Allan Ober displays some of his collection of World War II articles.

Very few teen-agers have had an opportunity to gather treasures but Allan Ober has had the good fortune of acquiring an interesting collection of World War II souvenirs.

As a member of the First Infantry Division, Allan's father came into possession of a German dress

As a member of a German dress bayonet, a Nazi's wallet, some German paper currency, a change purse and German coins, a German-made wrist watch, a Belgian passport, three officers' insignias and a photograph of Hitler.

Allan has both an officer's and soldier's field cap and a German officer's belt with the Nazi insignia on the buckle. He also has a 10' by 4' German swastika and a complete collection of all the letter seals used by the German nobility from 1237-1712. Allan is proud to own all these articles although he sincerely hopes that there will never be a recurrence of such a war as made his collection possible.

Sophomore Dance

The Sophomore Class of Punchard High will present its January Jump Dance in the Memorial Gymnasium, Jan. 24. It will be the first school dance of 1957 and will mark the end of mid-year examinations. The decorations are to be white with colored lights and the music will be supplied by Mike Gavin, a popular local disc jockey.

dually whittle away our powers" Secretary Alex Henderson complained. Member P. LeRoy Wilson added "I'm not in favor of it. I don't see why we should do it". And Francis Reilly said he, too, couldn't see any point in changing the present system unless it was a great help on saving.

Presently anyone with a water bill must pay it in the department's office on the second floor of the town hall. It was suggested that some persons, particularly older men and women, find it difficult to climb up the stairs but none of the board members agreed that that was a problem.

Members asked Supt. Ralph Preble how many inquiries the water department gets in an average day. In addition to questions from "every third person paying a bill", Preble stated, there possibly would be 12 to 14 calls a day plus half a dozen inquiries from water department personnel. Members thought having the collecting on the ground floor would be difficult, then, because someone would have to call or run upstairs to get information whenever a query was presented.

Library Wants Addition Now

For the third year, the trustees of the Memorial Hall Library have decided to ask for an addition to the library.

But the estimated cost in 1957 has risen sharply from last year's approximation, from $175,000 to $192,000. Each year the voters have listened to the library's request for an addition and have vetoed the proposal although expressing interest in the problem. The general comment from the floor of town meeting has been that other matters were more pressing than the library's added space.

Chairman Arthur Reynolds spoke about the addition during the library's budget hearing. He pointed out that the space problem was acute two years ago and has become worse. He made the point that newcomers to town, specially in the technical and scientific fields, will want to use the library.

The budget itself is slightly over 9½ percent greater than last year's. The largest increase is in the salary category, with the explanation that an established wage classification plan establishes regular increases each

Route 28 Work Shows Progress

Fall of 1958 is the goal of contractors working on sections of the new Route 28.

Work is underway on the three-mile stretch of six-lane highway from the bridge on the Shattuck Farm southerly through W. Andover.

Expected to be advertised this spring are the high bids for the bridge over Dascomb rd., Lovell rd., High Plain and Chandler rd. and River rd. They, too, are planned for completion in fall of 1958 to coincide with the completion of the bridge. Contracts for the bridge work were let last year as the sub-structure near completion.

The contract for the highway work itself was awarded to Sullivan Excavators Inc. of Wakefield.

When the three-mile section is finished here and the bridge completed, automobilists should be able to drive on new highway through to New Hampshire. For section of highway is being planned for completion in Methuen by late 1958. It will tie in with the bridge with the by-pass of Route 113 now being constructed in Methuen near the present Route 28 New Hampshire line.

After 21 Years Of Progress The United Steelworkers Of America Plan For An Even Greater Future

DAVID J. McDONALD
President, United Steelworkers of America

Every Steelworker will benefit from the plans revealed by David J. McDonald

"This great Union is not standing still. It is a moving force ... always planning a better life for its members ... always working for more security on the job ... always striving for a happier home-life for each Steelworker's family.

"We never intend to stop our efforts to achieve a continuously rising standard of living for all of our people. A continuous rising wage level is the strongest assurance we have of maintaining a healthy, financially sound economy. Increased purchasing power for wage and salaried workers is an absolute requirement if we are to prevent an economic recession."

United Steelworkers Of America

Let's Do Sensible Thing

The subject of collecting water bills in the tax collector's office has come up several times.

And on each occasion, the Board of Public Works has turned thumbs down on the idea.

This week, the Board again decided to collect its own bills in its upstairs office, despite the recommendations of the state auditors. Apparently these men felt that a single collecting agency would be more practical and make it easier for the taxpayers as well.

Certainly there is a point to be made for this idea. If nothing else, many men and women are now forced to climb the stairs in the town hall — something many older persons dislike.

On many occasions we have seen men and women come to the town hall to pay a water bill, only to find the office closed while the tax collector's office is open. The lack of uniformity in opening and closing, thus, creates a hardship for some men and women who find it difficult to get downtown during the day.

It seems strange to us that such a simple matter as altering the system of collecting the bills should create such a serious problem in the minds of the BPW members. One said that someone was trying to take power away from the board.

If the change makes sense, why quibble about whose job it is supposed to be?

Polio Shots Available

Mothers will march for Polio next week.

And probably most residents will give their contribution gladly, for all of us know how much has been done for polio victims in this community.

Why, then, if we are so well aware of the crippling effects of polio and the work that must be done to help its victims, do we hesitate in having our young people vaccinated against the disease?

It seems strange indeed that the town must nearly beg its citizens to take advantage of free polio shots.

The last clinic will be held this Saturday at the Central School. Anyone from six months through 29 years of age may get either the first or second shot. Enough vaccine is available for 3000 shots.

All over the country men and women seem to have lost sight, through its momentary absence, of the horror of a polio epidemic. If the vaccine had been available here a year ago last summer, we all would have lined up hastily for the shots. But because the epidemic isn't right before us, we lose sight of the fact that it can come again — that is, it can if we don't now get our shots.

It is to your own advantage to have your children vaccinated against the disease — and it is to your own advantage, if you are under 30, to get a shot yourself.

Support Wage Survey

We have had several kind comments about our remarks last week urging that wage classification be turned over to a professional firm.

And now we see, through the warrant, that money is being requested for that purpose if it is deemed wise in the eyes of the future committee.

We respectfully urge all voters who attend the town meeting to approve this article and to leave the appropriation in it so that a fair, impartial wage classification survey can be made.

The more one sees of the wage structure now — with the responsibility for increases scattered among town boards and department heads, plus town meeting itself, the more it is evident that an immediate and thorough survey is needed.

Free Church Held Annual Meeting

REV. HORACE SELDON

Frederick Fitzgerald was re-elected moderator of the Free Christian Church at its annual meeting Jan. 17.

About 100 guests and members sat down to supper preceding the annual business session.

Elected to office by the members were Miss Bessie A. Coutts, clerk; Judith G. Napier, assistant clerk; Robert P. Domingue, treasurer; John Craig, assistant treasurer; Carleton Schulze, auditor; Alexander Black, board of trustees for four years; Alfred Harris, George Keith and James Watt, three year terms on the board of deacons; Mrs. Frank Ashworth, board of deaconesses for four years; Miss Irma Bean, Mrs. Frederick Fitzgerald and Thomas Wraight, one year terms on the standing committee.

Seated at the head table at the supper were Senior Deacon and Mrs. Lewis H. Paine, Miss Coutts, the Rev. and Mrs. Horace Seldon, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mr. and Mrs. Domingue. The committee in charge of the supper included Mrs. William Burnham and Mrs. Wraight.

Mr. Fitzgerald presided at the business meeting. After reports and routine business were completed, the church voted to establish a committee of members to recommend rules for use of the newly renovated building. It was also voted to invite the Andover Association of Congregational Churches to convene in installation council for the purpose of installing Mr. Seldon as pastor.

The budget for 1957 was adopted and plans were announced for a series of house meetings in areas of the parish for the purpose of introducing Mr. Seldon.

Mr. Seldon offered the opening prayer and the members joined in a prayer of thanksgiving for God's goodness to them, at the conclusion of the session.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — January, 1907

The Vaudeville show, in which the musical and drama departments at Phillips Academy will take part, is to be held tonight in the Town House. This is the first time a strictly vaudeville show has been attempted by the students and it gives every promise of success.

It will be remembered that about two weeks ago a pig owned by Charles Jameson was bitten by a dog and its head sent to the State Board of Health for examination. The Board has made its report, which states that the pig was suffering with a very severe case of rabies. The dog was killed later the same day in Tewksbury.

The regular meeting of Andover Council 65, Royal Arcanum, will be held this evening.

The second annual concert and ball by the Knights of Columbus, Andover Council, will be held in the Town House April 18.

The Andover Humane Society has requested all dog owners to make certain that their dogs do not slip out of the house without a muzzle. In a nearby community a small dog was shot in the presence of its small owner because it was not muzzled. The Society points out that the dogs will no doubt try to slip out and children must be vigilant in seeing that they don't.

A Farmers' Institute will be held in Grange Hall Feb. 1 under the auspices of the Essex Agricultural Society.

The dedication of the John-Esther art building will occur Feb. 23 when President Elliot of Harvard will be present and make a speech.

A pleasant dancing party was held in the November Club house last evening. Approximately 15 couples enjoyed the affair.

New electric light poles have been placed on Bartlet st. by the Lawrence Gas Co. to replace old ones.

Gentlemen's Night will be celebrated by the Andover Mother's Club in Punchard Hall Jan. 28.

The Rev. W. E. Lombard, pastor of the Baptist Church and the Rev. F. A. Wilson, pastor of the Free Church, will exchange pulpits next Sunday morning.

A partly frozen fawn was rescued from the ice of the Merrimack River last weekend by W. D. Fletcher. He crawled out on some boards and brought the animal to safety, but reported it probably will be mercifully killed because one of its feet has wasted away from an injury. It also bears gunshot wounds on the hind quarters and has many scars from bouts with barbed wire. The doe beside which the fawn had been discovered was dead and its body remains on the ice. There have been many reports of deer along the river bank this winter.

There will be no shortage of ice next summer, according to local ice men. They report a plentiful supply due to the cold weather, with much going to waste as the ice houses are full while plenty of ice remains to be taken.

25 Years Ago — January, 1932

Word received this morning by the Selectmen indicates that the By-Pass, from Route 28 to Route 114, will become a through way. The state said it will take care of erecting necessary signs.

The special town meeting killed a request for $15,000 to help relieve unemployment through BPW projects. An hour or so of heckling and wisecracks took place, with some 500 persons of the 800 attending complaining that it was virtually impossible to hear what was taking place or what the call for a vote was about. Following the meeting John O'Connell received an overwhelming majority vote for his proposed Taxpayers Association.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, Post 8, American Legion, voted to hold a supper. The date will be announced shortly.

A committee authorized by town meeting to investigate economic conditions in the town has been appointed by the moderator. Serving on the group will be Fred H. Eaton, Alfred L. Ripley, Frank L. Brigham, Maurice J. Curran and John F. O'Connell. The group expects to have a report by the end of next week, after a series of meetings with the Selectmen and Mrs. Lotta Johnson.

An open competitive examination for the postmaster's post will be held. The United States Civil Commission announced the exam. The post pays $3200.

At the first registration of voters in the new year, 53 persons registered.

When two machines collided at the junction of Phillips and Abbot streets last evening the fire department was unnecessarily called out. Someone rang in the alarm as the machines hit, then struck a pole.

10 Years Ago — January, 1947

A heated meeting resulted Tuesday night when the School Committee sat down with representatives of the Taxpayers Association, Selectmen, PTA members and members of the press to discuss the budget. The request for 1947 is $265,131 — a substantial increase over last year's $222,773. The Taxpayers Association asked the Committee to find some way to cut the budget figure while retaining efficiency in the school department.

The postponement of the Shawsheen PTA circus from Wednesday to Thursday night last week had little effect on the enthusiasm with which youngsters and their parents greeted the affair. Along with games of skill and chance, there were prizes galore plus a one-ring circus performance and a circus parade.

C. Carlton Kimball was re-elected senior warden at the annual meeting of the Christ Church Monday night.

Ten new members were initiated into Andover Post 8, American Legion, during ceremonies in the Post Rooms last Thursday.

The new officers of Andover Chapter 187, O.E.S., were installed recently. Mrs. James Martin was installed as worthy matron. John O'Connell filed his nomination papers this week for the office of moderator — being the first candidate to file papers.

Ernest S. Young of Elm st. has been appointed fund chairman for the 1947 activities of the local Red Cross chapter.

A barn belonging to the former Hood estate on Oliver rd., West Andover, was completely demolished by raging flames Sunday morning. Once known as the "showplace of New England" the dairy farm was noted for its fine stock of jersey and guernsey cows. The blaze was discovered by the seminarians in St. Francis Seraphic Seminary as they were singing the 10 o'clock high Mass. Andover fire apparatus was joined by trucks from Lowell, Lawrence and Tewksbury but all were hampered by the poor water supply.

Board of Public Works
A request from Mr. Plummer on utherland st. relating to the acceptance of the street was referred to the Selectmen for action.
Chairman Allen Flye said a town meeting article specified that the street could be accepted only after the sewer was installed, houses connected and the street returned to its original condition. Engineer Ralph Preble said the work has been done and the street has been returned to proper condition. Under the wording of the article, Flye thought automatic acceptance would occur under the guidance of the selectmen.

A brief discussion concerning the town's right to spend water department income for improvements to the system resulted in an impasse. Chairman Flye commented that he often had urged the water department be self-sustaining, spending its income in the system rather than putting it into free cash and asking the voters for an appropriation every year. However, statutes covering the department's operation apparently don't give that authority.
Secretary Alex Henderson read several sections of the law, dating back into the 1800's, but in each case phrases like "approval of the town" were inserted.

The town will continue to share the expense of replacing services to homes, but new services will be the financial responsibility of the homeowner. Replacements will be paid for by the BPW from water main to the property line, under a continuing policy. The board decided to make no changes in the system, on the basis that homeowners have once paid for the service and shouldn't be charged a full cost again. The system applies only on house services.

Board of Public Works

Engineer Ralph Preble said the work has been done and the street has been returned to proper condition. Chairman Flye commented that he often had urged that the water department be self-maintaining, spending its income on the system rather than putting it into free cash and asking the voters for an appropriation every year. Selectmen's Business

At Monday Night's meeting, the Selectmen received a letter from Howell Sillman asking that the town manager report be included in the town report.

Received bids on washing and painting front and back halls of the town hall. Walter Buxton bid $776.40 and John Scherner bid $432. Contract was awarded to Scherner.

Inc., which then shares the commissions with the other agents in the town.

At a meeting several months ago, the agents asked to write some of the policies rather than accepting a share of commissions. At that time, they asked the Selectmen to explain the mathematical system used in dividing the commissions and that was promised by the Board.

The letter informing the agents that they will not be allowed to write any town policies did not specify the method in which commission shares are allocated. Selectman William V. Emmons, in response to a question on that point, said the Board felt it unnecessary to publish those facts.

The Board did, however, set up regulations governing which agents will receive portions of the commissions. Other than those agents now receiving some money from Smart and Flagg, a newcomer will have to be a resident of the town, be a licensed insurance agent or broker and have maintained a full-time office for that purpose for three years.

The brief letter of explanation to the interested agents, read:

"After due consideration, the Board of Selectmen has decided that the present program of insurance seems to be the most practical and economical for the Town.

"The plan of centralized supervision allows responsibility to be definitely placed and makes for continuity of operation. The present program has proven its merit in past years and we see no reason at this time to make a change. The present agent, Smart and Flagg, Inc., has agreed to continue to share its commission with the other agents as its contribution toward the maintenance of a sound, economical insurance program for the town and harmony in the local insurance industry. It is felt that the present division of commissions should continue.

"It is further felt that, before any new agent can share in the program, certain standards should be set up. The newcomer must be a resident of the Town of Andover, have an established full-time office in Andover for at least three (3) years, and be a licensed agent or broker.

"Therefore, the Board of Selectmen appoint Smart and Flagg, Inc. of Andover, Massachusetts, to act as their Insurance Counsellors, caring for all insurance needs and writing all policies without cost to the town beyond the actual net premiums for the insurance purchased."

Bomb Hoax Empties School Building In Sub-Zero Weather

Andover had its school building emptied last Friday, Jan. 18, in an event expected for many weeks.

A male voice, calling the Junior High School office, said "you're going to have a bomb going off at your school at 9 o'clock. I hope you're there." The call came just after 8 a.m. to Mrs. Grace Hall, Junior High secretary. She notified Headmaster Lindsay J. March who called Supt. Edward I. Erickson.

Although most school officials explained they felt the call to be a hoax, incoming Junior and Senior High students were housed temporarily in the Central School.

Police, led by Sgt. Robert Deyerdmond and firefighters under the direction of Chief Henry Hill, made a thorough search of desks, lockers and other possible hiding places.

Shortly after 9, when the bomb was scheduled to explode, school officials gave the all-clear and close to 1000 students made their way back to classes. With temperatures hovering at 16 below zero, the youngsters had been temporarily housed in every available part of the Central School. They filled the Auditorium, an upper hallway and several other areas. Some teachers remained with them while others helped in the search.

Many schools have been similarly emptied in the past few months, leading school officials here to be almost certain that the brief call was a hoax. Despite that belief, Supt. Erickson said the school had to be evacuated on the remote chance that a bomb had been planted somewhere on the premises.

SERVAIS WILL LEAVES ESTATE TO DAUGHTERS
According to the will of Dieudonne A. Servais of Haverhill st., who died Nov. 18, his three daughters, Mrs. Eugenia M. Boucher of Northampton, Mrs. Mona Anderson of Lexington, and Mrs. Olga Tompkins of Andover, who also was nominated as the executrix, are to share the estate.
The instrument, dated Nov. 18, 1955, made no provisions for a son, Ivan D. Servais of West Concord, who had been provided for previously. The widow, Mrs. Marie Agnes Servais of Lexington, also was provided for during his lifetime. But, if she elects to take a statutory share of the estate, he wrote, it is to be placed in trust, with the daughters receiving the principal upon her demise.

Mothers March Again Jan. 31 To Fight Polio

Mrs. Robert Prochazka and Bruce Dodd confer over plans for the Mothers' March on Polio Jan. 31 from 7-8 p.m. Mr. Dodd, a victim of polio in the outbreak a year ago last summer is serving as co-chairman of the drive in Shawsheen. All over town that night, mothers will call door to door for contributions to finish the fight against polio. Some $20,000 has been spent, for instance, to help Mr. Dodd, who is nearly completely paralyzed. (Leone)

BPW DOESN'T WANT TO BUY BACK-HOE

Off-Street Parking Up To Voters Now

Off-street parking will be a major item at the annual town meeting.

The Selectmen have planned to insert three articles relating to the need for further parking facilities in the down-town area. They run from $50,000 for land and facilities off Park st. to $6000 from the parking meter account for the Shaw property near the Postoffice. Added to those amounts is a third article asking $5000 for repairs to Post Office ave., which the town would take over.

The largest single article, for $50,000, will be worded in a general way as was one five years ago. It would allow the Selectmen to obtain land when they found some available at a reasonable price.

The land behind Park st. has been considered for off-street parking for some time but it was only recently that a firm decision to seek money for its purchase was made. Owners of land there have been asked to put a price on it by the Selectmen.

It is hoped that access may be obtained both through Park st. and Post Office ave., providing the town votes to accept the avenue and fix it up. Long the source of complaints, the avenue is now owned by Samuel Resnik. He has been contacted about the property and has, it is understood, agreed to transfer the right of way to the town providing he can keep an access to a storage tank under the street.

On the Shaw property, the Selectmen have expressed a desire to tear down the house and make a parking area on street level. While it would not be hard topped for the present, it would be brought to grade and graveled for use.

Five years ago a sum of $10,000 was voted for the Selectmen to spend for off-street parking. With the Finance Committee's approval, the board bought land on Essex st. to ease the parking problem near the railroad station, for $5500. Another $1500 of it has been used to create the parking area behind the fire station. Other property, particularly near the railroad station, is being considered by the board for parking. It has been explained that the railroad may be interested in developing more land to relieve the problem.

Off-street parking itself was urged by a committee from the Board of Trade last week. Three representatives called on the Selectmen to create facilities in the Park st. area. They said the present municipal space is too far from the shopping area, with conditions becoming more and more crowded on Main st. as shoppers sought to avoid walking back down town from that area.
